DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The application has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible typographical and grammatical errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which he/she may become aware in the application.

The Information Disclosure Statements filed 06/10/02 have been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 11, lines 1-3, it is unclear what is meant by "a step formed at a transition", and "wherein the ridges extend from the step". Clarification is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Art Unit: 2819

Claim 1 is rejected as being anticipated by Volman (US 6,577,207).

Volman teaches in figure 1 an electromagnetic coupler apparatus for a filter, the apparatus comprising an entry section in the form of a common square port (See column 1, line 2) in which two orthogonally polarized wave types are capable of propagating (See column 1 lines 59-60); two first exit sections (14) and (16) (See column 2, lines 35 and 37) for propagating one of the wave types and extending along an extension of the entry section; a planar septum (32) for separating the two first exit sections; and two second exit sections (40a) and (40b) (See column 2, lines 55-56) for propagating the other of the wave types, and extending laterally in a plane of the septum, the two second exit sections being coaxial conductors.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-10 and 12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim 11 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
